

David Rettig

David Rettig is Founder, President, CEO and co-owner of Rembrandt Enterprises, Inc. Rembrandt is a privately held, leading agribusiness and food-company headquartered in northwest Iowa, with over 1000 coworkers and exports to over 35 countries. Rembrandt was founded in 2000, driven by a vision to be the most advanced vertically integrated egg products company in the world. Today, Rembrandt is one of the top 3 producers of eggs in the USA, and top 10 producers worldwide. Additionally Rembrandt's fertilizer division is one of the top 10 ag-products retailers in Iowa, and is recognized as a leader in developing precision agriculture solutions. Rembrandt's joint venture in pet care, IsoNova, is a global leader in the creation of functional egg based products for pets.

Rettig is active in the industry serving as a past Board Member of United Egg Producers (UEP), Committee Member of Egg Processors International (EPI); Board Member of the Egg Industry Center at Iowa State University, Ames, Iowa; and also serves on the Iowa State University Ag Entrepreneurship Initiative Advisory Board.
